How to get started:

Call us at 410-795-8371 to schedule a lesson time. Please let us know your availability (days and times).

Private lessons:

- New students ride in 30-minute private lessons until they can walk, trot, halt, and steer on their own.
- The cost for a set of 3 privates is only $170 (usually 1 lesson per week, on a recurring day and time).
- Need to miss a private lesson? If you call to notify us at least 24 hours in advance, we can schedule a make-up for another day.

Group lessons:

- Once riders can walk, trot, halt, and steer on their own, they may join a 50-minute group lesson.
- Group lessons are sold in packages of 9 lessons for $405.
- These lessons are once a week at a predetermined day and time; enrollment is ongoing.
- Groups consist of up to 7 riders who are riding at a similar level.
- Need to miss a group lesson? If you call to notify us at least 2 hours in advance, we can schedule a make-up for another day.

Before you ride:

Please read our Student Handbook, which can be found on our website. Students should read and sign the Handbook before beginning lessons, as it contains information regarding our policies (for riders and visitors), services, local resources, and other pertinent information (such as our inclement weather policy).

What you'll need:

- A pair of long pants
- A hard-soled shoe or a short boot with a heel
- We provide helmets and grooming supplies for the first few lessons

As you continue to ride, talk to your instructor for specific recommendations regarding clothing/equipment. The first purchase we recommend is an ASTM/SEI-approved riding helmet. After that, we recommend purchasing grooming supplies, riding boots, breeches, half chaps, or jodhpurs. We suggest these tack shops:

- Maryland Saddlery (located on the corner of Falls Road and Butler Road in Monkton, MD). They know us, and they have a great rewards program!
- Dover Saddlery (located on York Road in Hunt Valley, MD) or visit www.doversaddlery.com.

Want to ride more?

- Riders get 10% off each additional concurrent lesson set.
- Students aged 12 and older who have been enrolled in lessons at FMF for at least six months can take advantage of our Working Student program, which allows students to earn credit that can be applied to the cost of a second concurrent lesson set. Please ask your instructor if interested.
- Riders and families can also volunteer at farm events to earn discounts on lessons.
